If the Mississippi river is the father of waters, it is a pity his wife does not make him behave.

The Mississippi has demonstrated that even if it has a bed it doesn't lie in it all the time.

STORE CLOSING PROBLEM

Savannah merchants are now passing through a more or less serious discussion of the merits of store closing.

Somebody has conceived the idea that progressiveness consists in closing the stores and permitting the employees to celebrate in the open. One faction has the proper time for recreation and another faction thinks Saturday afternoon is the most progressive.

It is over this division of sentiment that the Savannah merchants are being lashed into an imaginary sea of frenzy.

Whenever one is confronted with a proposition of any kind it is fair enough to look under the cover and weigh the reasons before passing judgment. There might easily be reasons why, in the dull season now upon us, it is practicable to close the business houses for a half day without serious injury to business and permit the employees to get a breath of fresh air from the outside. The most logical season of rest is the mid-week, and this is the period which has been adopted most generally throughout the country. In Savannah somebody pretends to think that progressiveness demands that Saturday afternoon should be the day for the recreation of working people, and the outcome of this campaign is being watched with more or less concern from the outside.

We believe Savannah retail houses would find that they are doing themselves an injury to close their stores on Saturday afternoon. It is manifestly right to close shops and offices, where work can be carried over to another day without detriment to business. In the marts of trade it is different. If people cannot be served when they want service, they will not wait—they will go to some place where they can get service. If Savannah retail houses give notice that they are not open for business on Saturday afternoon, some people might speed up and do their trading in advance, or they might even postpone till another day, but the vast majority of people from the rural sections will not do either. They will turn their faces in a direction where they can find open stores.

If stores are being operated for the pleasure of the clerks, it is fair enough to close on Saturday or any other day; but if they are to be operated for the benefit of the public and their owners, the stores ought not to close at a time when the people are demanding service. Most people want service on Saturday afternoon. They are generally ready with the cash at that time, too, and it is a good time to give them what they want.

The biggest fools in the world are the couples who make marriage the place where they quit loving and start scrapping.

When you consider all the exercise she gets from jumping at conclusions, you wonder how a woman can ever get fat.

It must be discouraging to insist for 30 or 40 years on an open door in China and then have to come out through the transom.

A CARNIVAL WITHOUT WATER

If one has ever tried to imagine a water carnival without water, he has realized how anomalous the proposition is.

If one attended the coronation exercises in Savannah last Saturday evening, when the queen of the carnival with Neptune at her side was paid homage to by the valiant sailors of the seven seas, he was given a complete demonstration of the anomaly. Though there were ships of many designs and sailors clad in fitting togs, there was not a drop of real water in the entire picture.

The coronation was staged at the city stadium in order to provide seats for the throngs who wished to witness it. In the distant back-

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

I have seen a good many of the boys' pigs the past week, and with a few exceptions they are all doing fine. You boys with black Poland Chinas will have to go some to beat Chinese Smith. His pig is growing extra fine. The boys in Port are all doing well with their pigs. Saw the following boys' pigs this week: Ernest Carter, Fred Stewart, Paslette Suddath, Dan Gay, Floyd Hulse, Monroe Boyd and Cecil Bland, Charlie and Reginald Nesmith and L. A. Redd also have good black Poland Chinas. Edward Turner has a whole litter of pigs that he is feeding out. Some of the boys in the corn club have fine acres of corn. Those whom I have seen recently, and who have excellent prospects, are Turner, Motes, Edward Hendrix, R. Rupert McCormick and Clyde and Cap Mallard.

I want to urge all cotton club boys—and every farmer, for that matter—to get busy and dust their cotton with calcium arsenate. Weevil are here in alarming numbers, and the weather has been very favorable for them. It is unfortunate that there is not a large stock of calcium arsenate in Statesboro where we can get it on short notice. We are trying to get a carload shipped here now.

In the meantime, you can advise that farmers in each community get together and have it ordered out in larger quantities. You can get a better price and get it quicker this way.

The average man will feel sorry for you if you wear your arm in a sling or your foot in a bandage, but not if you've got a black eye.

Any man who wants to get rich quick might try inventing a method whereby an income can be stretched out as easily as some people stretch the truth.

Maybe the reason some people always seem to get their prayers answered is because they never quit nagging at the angels until they stop and listen.

These cars stand up!

EVERY General Motors car is built to represent General Motors quality and value throughout its life. Whether its potential mileage is to be used up by one owner or several owners makes no difference.

That is the reason for the high resale value of the current series of the General Motors cars. It is also the reason why USED General Motors cars offer real opportunities.

General Motors dealers are dependable merchants and will give you, if you wish to buy out of income, the advantage of the low rates of the GMAC Plan of time payment.

The price ranges of the new General Motors cars are given below. Pick out the car which interests you most. Then clip and mail the coupon. We want to tell you all about that car and also why General Motors cars, used or new, offer real value to their purchasers.

STATSBORO FIRE CHIEF ISSUES URGENT APPEAL

KEMP STRESSES IMPORTANCE OF SAFETY PRECAUTIONS AGAINST FIRE IN BUILDING.

In reviewing measures now being taken by the International Association of Fire Chiefs to combat the appalling loss of life and property by fire in the United States, Fire Chief J. R. Kemp points out that one of the most effective ways to reduce the fire danger is to give such buildings as we erect the highest degree of incombustibility.

"It would be impracticable, of course, to build an all-fireproof structure," Chief Kemp continued. "In a residence of this nature the beds would have to be steel or concrete slabs and furniture would have to be of a similar material. There could be no draperies, rugs, linen and clothing. But it never is impracticable to construct a fire-safe as is compatible with comfort."

"Take the average wood frame house as an example. When the wood frame is covered with a sheathing of wood, and this in turn is covered with wood siding; and when the lath under the plaster and the shingles on the roof are replaced by a highly combustible, conflagration-breeding type of construction—one that would put surrounding structures in jeopardy if a fire should break out, particularly if there were a high wind blowing. For a high wind would carry burning embers to adjoining roofs and scatter sparks far and wide."

"But it is probably a long way off before wood frame houses will be altogether abandoned, particularly since the development of modern building materials has resulted in a protected type of wood construction that retains all the good features of the old wood house."

"In building such a fire-protected wood house the wood frame is erected in the regular manner. But instead of a sheathing of wood being applied over the frame, a non-combustible type of sheathing is now used. This protects the frame from the outside. To protect it from the inside a metal or rock lath is used in place of wood lath. With a roof covering of asbestos or other fire-resistant material, a house so built possesses as high a degree of protection from fire as is possible in a frame structure."

Chief Kemp feels that preventing fires is just as important a part of the fire department's work as fighting fires, and along with the thousands of other fire chiefs throughout the country, he is actively co-operating with the International Association of Fire Chiefs in its great "1927 Fire Prevention Year" movement which it is hoped will account the public with means for reducing the annual fire toll.

GEORGIAN URGED TO EAT GEORGIA-GROWN APPLES

Cornelia, Ga., June 20.—The slogan, "Georgia Apples for Georgia People," will be sounded as never before this fall, according to the Consolidated Apple Growers' Exchange here which have elected officers, directors and an executive committee for another year. J. Frank Beck, of Atlanta, who was elected president, said today that better marketing prospects faced the growers than had prevailed at any time in several years. The exchange, he pointed out, has begun its new fiscal year with a more encouraging outlook than ever before. W. A. Shore, of Baldwin, was named vice-president, and J. C. Porter, of View, secretary and manager.

J. C. Porter, the new manager, is associated with his brother, C. R. Porter of Rome, in the Porter Bros. Farm Corporation, which controls large orchards at Esom Hill and at Cornelia. Both men were elected directors of the exchange and C. R. Porter, in addition, was named on the executive committee.

President Beck, in discussing the work of the exchange, said that probably the best that has been done in the improvement shown in the packing and grading of the members' apples at the several packing houses under the supervision of trained experts and conducted by the exchange.

"This resulted in securing for the growers a reputation they did not have before, and a recognition by the trade for reliability that places Georgia boxed apples in favorable competition with the much-advertised western pack," said Mr. Beck.

Adequate cold storage at Cornelia was said by Mr. Beck to be the greatest need of the exchange at the present time. The 57 varieties of apples grown here should be separated and reassembled according to grades and sizes in a plant capable of caring for the crop, he said.

MAY LOSE U. S. AID TO GEORGIA SCHOOLS

Sam J. Slate, state auditor, has made a trip to Washington to confer with federal officials in charge of the Smith-Lever and the Morrill educational funds which are distributed to the various states on a co-operative basis. About two years ago the American National Bank of Athens, Ga., closed its doors, thereby impounding $70,000 of Smith-Lever funds appropriated for the State College of Agriculture which was on deposit there. Dividends from liquidation recovered $15,000 of the deposit, but $55,000 has been lost to the state.

Under the law of the state of Georgia is obligated to replace this $55,000, but no appropriation has been made for this purpose as yet. The federal government has indicated that something must be done about this matter and Mr. Slate went to Washington to confer with the federal authorities and forestall, if possible, any drastic action in the way of curtailing the Smith-Lever fund for Georgia.

Another matter for conference is the Morrill fund, which is supposed to be matched by the state, the total being divided by the State University and the State Industrial School for Negroes at Savannah. The state has not matched the fund in full, although $10,000 has been appropriated for this purpose annually. The Morrill fund amounts to $24,000, and the federal officials are asking why it should not be matched in full by the state according to agreement.

EPOCHAL WAR FILM TO SHOW IN STATSBORO

"The World War," a motion picture utilizing a great portion of the world as a set, with entire nations playing minor parts and with eleven-twelfths of the world's population in the cast, will have its initial appearance at the Georgia Normal School auditorium starting Monday, July 4th, and continuing for one week.

This unusual picture, which is being shown in this city under the auspices of the Dexter Allen Post of the American Legion, has been described as "at once the most thrilling and authentic history of the World War that has ever been put in pictures."

The story of this picture's creation, the lives lost in "shooting" its scenes, the months of delving into the archives of the governments of the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, Russia and Germany to obtain official data and pictures, the years devoted to its careful preparation, and the official seals of the United States navy and army departments stamped on the film (the first in the history of motion pictures that those great seals have appeared on films), all these unusual elements in this picture's preparation make it what it is—"the first big historical motion picture of the World War."

Its action covers the greatest drama in the history of the world over a period of four years. Therein lies the remarkable feature of this unusual picture; it has successfully brought to the screen in comprehensive and graphic form the most gigantic war in the history of the world. This has been done by careful compilation of scenes that are revealing, impressive and authentic.

War in all its phases is seen in this film. There are no picked scenes. The lumbering tanks, the murderous machine guns sweeping No-Man's Land, the poisonous gas, the smoke screens, the depth bombs, sinking of ships by submarines, the flare of starbells, the recoil of gigantic guns gouging the earth in angry protest, the wire entanglements, the falling planes, the war are seen in this great picture.

"The title of the picture, 'The World War,' is no misnomer," one critic said. "It is just that. When you have seen it you will know."

WOMAN SEEKS TRACE OF RELATIVES IN BULLOCH

From Houston, Texas, comes an appeal to the Times for assistance in finding traces of the ancestors of a lady living in that city, Mrs. L. L. Limbaugh. Information she has of her ancestors, dates sometime about a century ago. While there are not now living any persons whose memories run back so far, it is thought possible that there may be some who are familiar with the names and who may thus give the desired information.

The letter from Mrs. Limbaugh in part is as follows: "Would like some information about my ancestors who lived in that part of Georgia, and I think some of them may be still living around there, thought part of them went to Mississippi. My grandmother, Elizabeth Dampier, was born in Bulloch county about 1818. Her father, Stephen Dampier, and Ann Graham were married in Effingham county in 1811, possibly at Ebenezer church. Are there any of those Grahams still in that county? There are still an Ebenezer church? . . . Also, was the William Dampier who lived in Claremont county, S. C., in 1790, the father of those who married in Effingham county? Where is Claremont county?" Mrs. Limbaugh's address is 2518 Prospect avenue, Houston, Texas. If there is anybody who can help her, we hope they will do so.

SUSPICION POINTS TO AWAKENING POLITICS

MALLARD AND D'LOACH MAY AGAIN BE THE LINE-UP IN RACE FOR SHERIFF.

The Times is not given to stirring politics just to hear till rumbling. Its policy is to wait till there are developments rather than attempt to create them.

It is not sure that there is at this moment enough politics in the local air to attract active interest, but there are suspicious indications that things are about to wake up.

There has also been mentioned that Howell Cone is an avowed candidate for judge of the superior court to succeed Judge Strange. It has been accepted all the while that Judge Strange would not again be in the race. There is a growing rumor, however, that this latter assumption may be an error—and that Judge Strange is being considered to run again and may do so. Bulloch has in the past had two candidates for that office. We do not believe that it will happen again.

Next to the judgeship, activity in the sheriff's race seems to be about the most definite. For a long time it has been conceded that Joe Tillman, deputy for the past eight years, is to be a candidate next time for sheriff. At the present time that seems to be accepted as one of the certainties. Then later comes the discussion of other possibilities involving a possible repetition of the scrimmage between two former adversaries—Ex-Sheriff DeLoach and Sheriff Mallard. The Times hasn't had an expression from either of these gentlemen, but there are those who seem positive that next year will witness a contest between them in some form. At least, it seems to be currently understood that DeLoach is going to run, and that Mallard may. A most suspicious circumstance in that connection is the fact that "Bill H." is taking a week off his run on the S. & S. passenger train this week and is "resting up" among the people of various sections of the county. We haven't heard what DeLoach is talking about, but it is not surprising that he is taking politics while he is "resting." Our guess is that, if some detective will follow him through the county, he will find that he is spending his vacation in the usual way—talking politics about the sheriff's race.

FLORIDA LAKE "GOING DRY" MILLIONS OF FISH HAULED OUT

Valdosta, Ga., June 21.—Ochatchee lake, just over the Florida line, which is usually three miles long, two miles wide, and from fifty to one hundred feet deep, has run out into the ground, through a line sink, and is now nothing but a narrow strip of water teeming with fish. It covers a few acres and is only a few feet deep at the deepest places.

The great hole in the ground with its white sandy bottom, forms a gorge of wonderful appearance. It is hardly as deep as Tallulah gorge, but is much wider, with naturally high banks leading down to the water's edge. Hundreds of people have visited it since it "went dry." The recent rains caused the water to rise two or three feet.

Since it became so low fish have been hauled out of it by dry loads. Mule teams have been used to take the fish away to neighboring markets, and it is said that mules have been used to draw sails that brought the fish out by hundreds. One good fisherman said he believes that not less than a million fish have been caught there since the waters began to run off.

The lake runs dry every twenty or thirty years, in very dry weather. The theory is that it runs into the Withlacoochee river, which is a few miles away, and that the water comes back into it with a rise into the water. It is fed, however, by innumerable springs, and after the water reaches a certain level it remains there until the time comes for it to run off again.

It is a wonderful sight at present. Passerby along the highway can see its white, sandy bottom a mile or so away, resembling a bank of snow, the water is growing in places on the bottom of the lake and cattle are grazing there, while huge cranes are catching fish in the shallows and resemble white chickens in the distance.

Many fishermen are camping on the banks of the lake and are not letting any opportunity get by for catching fish.
